

For the proposed 5 MHz band, I request that the FCC provide a subband to facilitate narrow band digital modes, as is the practice on most other Amateur Radio frequency allocations. At a minimum, 75 to 100 kHz would offer spectrum for the experimentation, implementation and use of new and established digital modes in the Amateur Radio Service.

Sincerely,

Philip Lazar, ARS K9PL